

FASD

Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder

What is FASD?

Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder (FASD) is a lifelong disability that affects the brain and body of people who were exposed to alcohol in the womb. Each person with FASD has both strengths and challenges and will need special supports to help them succeed with many different parts of their daily lives.

FASD Facts

- FASD is the leading developmental disability in Canada, affecting 4% of Canadians.
- FASD is an “invisible disability,” meaning you cannot tell if someone has FASD just by looking at them.
- 90% of individuals with FASD also experience mental health issues.
- Individuals with FASD can achieve positive outcomes if their needs and challenges are addressed early in life.
